TWO NEW SIGNS ADDED TO THE OMICRON VARIANT!

JUNUARY 19

2021

Two new symptoms, nausea and vomiting, have been added to the Omicron variant, according to analysis done at Imperial College London. Making statements on the subject, IGU Public Health Specialist Asst. Prof. Nurten Elkin underlines the need for a distinguishing diagnosis as some of these symptoms may be indicators of different diseases.

Two new symptoms, nausea and vomiting, have been added to the Omicron variant, according to analysis done at Imperial College London. However, some of these symptoms also indicate different diseases. Istanbul Gelisim University Public Health Specialist Asst. Prof. Nurten Elkin, who underlines the need for a differential diagnosis because it can cause cancer, says, “Isolation and contact follow-up should be strictly controlled in the Omicron variant as well. It is necessary to provide information targeting especially those who are hesitant about vaccination, to vaccinate people who are not vaccinated quickly, and to ensure that people who have completed their primary vaccination schedule receive their reminder doses quickly.”

NEW REGULATIONS IN PPS TO ATTRACT SAVERS!

2021

In the Private Pension System (PPS), five different regulations that are planned to be implemented in the coming days will attract the participants. Speaking about these changes, which will create significant leaps, Istanbul Gelisim University, Faculty of Economics, Administrative and Social Sciences Logistics Management Faculty Member Assoc. Prof. Hakan Yıldırım states that as a result of the revision to be made for the relevant law, both the continuity of the existing participants will be ensured and new participants will be encouraged.

GOVERNMENT CONTRIBUTION TO BE INCREASED TO 30 PERCENT

The Private Pension System, which is considered an important savings tool in countries with developed economies, has now started to be seen as an important savings tool for our country as well. Important arrangements are made in the Private Pension System, which has gained the trust of investors, especially with the state contribution. Making statements on the subject, Assoc. Prof. Hakan Yıldırım says, “When the last regulation, which is planned to be put into effect in general terms, is examined, state contributions can be received in the following years for contributions exceeding the annual state contribution limit, and this situation will provide significant advantages for savers. In particular, the state contribution, which is planned to be increased from 25% to 30%, can play a key role in increasing the trust of savers in this system. Additionally, another important regulation is that participants can have the opportunity to receive partial payment. The participants will be able to withdraw 50% of their savings when they need cash, without having to exit the system completely with this change.”
