Urban melioration project for Avcilar from students

OCTOBER 15, 2019

University students aiming to preserve historical and cultural continuity have prepared Urban Design Project and Guide for Avcilar district. Aiming to increase the quality of space, the project was presented to Turan Hançerli, Mayor of Avcilar.

The districts built irregularly over the years remain incomplete in terms of city planning. At this point, architecture students carry out many projects in order to design habitable spaces. The students of Istanbul Gelisim University the Department of Architecture prepared Urban Design Projects and Guides in order to design quality, characteristic and livable spaces. University students took Avcilar as their subject and carried out Urban Melioration studies in Avcilar Central District.

The desire to be an influencer on social media makes people obsessed about sharing

OCTOBER 17, 2019

Istanbul Gelisim University (IGU) Department of New Media Assist. Prof. Dr. Deniz Akçay said that the urge to share which becomes a natural reflex by social media users stems from the desire to be an influencer. Dr. Akçay said: "The desire to make a share brings along infollution. Unconfirmed news should be shared after the confirmation by the traditional media."

Warning not to share unconfirmed information on social media, Istanbul Gelisim University (IGU) Department of New Media Assist. Prof. Dr. Deniz Akçay said: "The urge to be an influencer makes people obsessed about making the first and continuous shares. Do not share falsifying and unconfirmed news on social media.

Especially, the technology of artificial intelligence with rapidly developing information and communication technologies has become capable of making news which are plausible and convincing. It is pretty important for us as a society to be aware of trolls that produce infollution, that is, fake images and false news, information and documents, and artificial intelligence technologies' capability of producing realistic news."

House sales breaks a record

OCTOBER 18, 2019

TurkStat announced the house sales figures of the September. It shows that house sales in Turkey increased to 146.903 by 15.4% compared to the same month of the previous year. Monthly house sales have been the highest since 2013, while demand for second-hand houses has boomed. Financial Markets Specialist Hakan Yildirim evaluated the increase and said that it is clear that this increase will have a positive impact not only on the real estate market but also on other related sectors.

Yildirim, evaluating the increase in housing sales and explained: "Since sales will lead to needs such as furniture, household appliances, decoration and insurance, it will revive not only the housing sector but also the sectors that produce and sell these needs which constitute a significant part of the real sector. Thus, a positive atmosphere in the economy will begin to appear."
