NEWSThe words in the virtual world now have Turkish equivalents: RT became 'sektirmek'*DECEMBER 09, 2019

Many foreign terms are used frequently both in daily and business life. In the workshop organized in order to prevent this issue, foreign words were translated into Turkish. The words everyone frequently use now have Turkish equivalents such as Re-Tweet 'sektirmek' and Influencer 'deneyimleyici'.

The issue on changing terms into Turkish was discussed by specialists in five different tables with the topics 'Digital Reputation, Industry 4.0 and Artificial Intelligence, Digital Media, Cyber Security and Society 5.0' in Turkish in New Communication Environments: "Current Problems and Term Suggestions Workshop" at Istanbul Gelisim University. The workshop was held with cooperation of Turkish Language Association (TDK), Istanbul Gelisim University, Istanbul Okan University and Turkey Informatics Association. TDK experts, linguists, communicators and experts from many related areas came together to brainstorm in the workshop, and Turkish equivalents were suggested for foreign words.

There is no treatment for killing disease 'amok syndrome'

DECEMBER 09, 2019

Evaluating the words of the murderer Özgür Arduç, who stabbed Ballerina Ceren Özdemir to death with a knife and said that he did not know her at all and wanted to target and kill women and children he deemed weak as prey, Psychiatrist Psychotherapist Onur Okan Demirci described the murderer's psychology as amok syndrome. Demirci said: "Some of the people who have suffered from Amok take the act of killing people with unjustified anger or aggressive attitude and do not express any regret by performing it in cold blood."

Psychiatrist Psychotherapist Onur Okan Demirci from Istanbul Gelisim University evaluated the disease of Özgür Arduç, the killer of Ceren Özdemir. Demirci talked about the amok syndrome known as 'killing disease' as follows:

"In the recent murder, in which a young woman was brutally murdered, the killer's cold-blooded, emotionless expressions drew attention. This shows that the killings were not only committed for revenge, animosity, jealousy. In the world of psychiatry, there is a condition called 'Amok Syndrome or disorder'. In some sources, it is also called 'running amok' or 'amok'. The word Amok comes from the Malay word 'mengamok', which means very angry and helpless attack."

They embraced life with their hearts and they left their rivals behind

Ahmet Serdar Demir and Dilan Onçulu are only two of the disadvantaged persons in our society. Serdar is spinal cord paralyzed and Dilan has no arm or leg. The goal of the two swimmers who do not give up despite their disabilities is to achieve new successes leaving their rivals behind.

25-year-old Ahmet Serdar Demir became spinal cord paralyzed after the accident in the water when he was 17. Demir, who resumes life with sports after 7 years of physical therapies, has been trying to regain his losses in water. 24 year-old Dilan Onçulu who is born without arms and legs, races for the championship without giving up and saying 'If Dilan does it, everyone can do it'. The success of many young people like Serdar and Dilan has been the subject of photography exhibitions. The young people who are in the frames of photography artist Neşe Arı, came together in the exhibition 'Hold on to the Life' hosted by Istanbul Gelisim University. Photography artist Neşe Arı, saying that each photograph and person has a different story and said: "I watched an athlete coming from scratch one to the present. This was very important to me."
