SCIENTIFIC STUDIES AT OUR FACULTY

Civil Engineering

- The article entitled “Mechanical and Electromagnetic properties of self-compacted Geopolymer Concretes with Nanosilica and Steel Fiber Additives” prepared and written by one of our department academic members, Assoc. Prof. Dr Anil NIŞ was published in the SCOPUS Q1 indexed Journal IEEE Transactions on Instrumentation and Measurement.
- Our Civil Engineering faculty member, Asst. Prof. Dr. Mukhallad AL MASHHADANI made a presentation on " Conf. Cement-Rice Husk Ash Mortars Fabricated with Different Superplasticizers: Investigation on Some Fresh State and Strength Properties " at the " EJONS 14th International Confecence on Mathematics, Engineering, Natural&Medical Sciences”.
- The article entitled “Investigation of Mechanical and Durability Properties of Brick Powder-Added White Cement Composites with Three Different Fibers” prepared and written by one of our department academic members, Asst. Prof. Dr. Mukhallad AL MASHHADANI was published in the SCOPUS indexed Journal Construction and Building Materials.
- The article entitled “Durability properties of fly ash-based geopolymer mortars with different quarry waste fille” prepared and written by one of our department academic members, Asst. Prof. Dr. Yosra TAMMAM was published in the Journal Computers and Concrete.

Architecture

- The article entitled “The Effect of Digital Transformation in Business on Engineering Education” is presented in “2.
