CONTRIBUTION TO LOCAL ARTS, PROTECTING CULTURAL HERITAGE AND TRADITIONS

Cultural heritage is the preservation of beliefs, values, traditions and accumulated knowledge from past to present within the ever-changing living standards, and trying to maintain them as concrete and abstract beings and transfer them to other generations. But in order to perceive and protect the world from the past to the future with all its abstract and concrete essences, the necessity of assimilating national and cultural values and the importance of protecting them by prioritizing are evident. It is one of the primary tasks of higher education institutions to lead their societies in this direction and to be able to transfer this sensitivity to the new generations it is educated is seen as the first condition of contributing to universal values. It is very important to keep the memory of civilizations fresh so that the new generations can perceive the world with their own values and look from their own cultural windows. Therefore, this will be guided to a certain extent by the institutions and traditions of the institutions of higher education which are raising the generations of the future.

As a higher education institution carrying these sensitivities, İstanbul Gelisim University reinforces its efforts in this field day by day and produces new values. Our school who built the advantage of being an institution in İstanbul as a local actor to learners and is then Turkey's efforts to gain the reflex to protect the cultural heritage. SUSTAINABLE PRACTICES

Istanbul Gelisim University's activities in 2018 within the scope of sustainable cities and communities are reported below.

Access to University

Istanbul Gelisim University is located in the Avcilar district of Istanbul and is located in the city center of the district and has a high transportation comfort. Metrobus, which is on the E-5 route, which is the main transportation line of Istanbul, is very easy and effortless. Metrobus stops, which are 500 m away, can be reached from the campuses of the school with an average walking pace of 5-7 min.

All students and staff of the university prefer to use Metrobus predominantly. As a second choice in public transportation, there are public buses offered by the local government and it is possible to come to the university by public bus from every region.

In addition, a ring service is provided throughout the day to all campuses at 10-15 minute intervals from the Mustafa Kemal Pasha metrobus stop located at the nearest location to the university.

All students and staff can benefit from the ring service free of charge at any time and at any time. The company providing the ring service is one of the university's supplier companies and provides services with the vehicles with the logo of the university and its trained drivers.

For those who want to reach the university in their own car, free parking is provided at different points of the campus areas and especially 2-3 minutes' walk to the offices and classrooms of the individuals.

However, in addition to the transportation options mentioned above, it allows pedestrian access between Istanbul Gelisim University campuses. It is easy and comfortable to move without tools between all campuses.

Istanbul Gelisim University, in cooperation with the local government of the region, has included in the strategic goals of providing special hiking and cycling trails to the region and started its initiatives. However, for our University, which is located in a vibrant location in terms of traffic, the decision of the local government to be “inappropriate, has made it impossible to construct a walking track or bicycle path. Therefore, attempts made in this direction have failed.

Remote and Flexible Work

Istanbul Gelisim University applies flexible working methods for special positions according to the needs of the institution in terms of both academic and administrative staff. Partial University, in the case of overtime, remote work and overtime work, equalization has adopted flexible working models. It can be found University Policy supporting distance or flexible study at the link below.
